THE CHALLENGE

OHB is seeking new ideas for the future space sector: from novel concepts to competitive solutions. Technologies and processes from space and non-space sectors could be exploited for greater benefits in the future. The objective of OHB Challenge is to identify innovative, promising ideas and concepts to support the implementation and use of space solutions.

Topics can include smart materials, efficient new technologies, processes and methods, robotics, communication, space exploration, commercial space services and any other inspiring idea in the space sector!

We aim at fostering efficiency with increased performance in all future space projects.

Unlock your innovation potential!
